"A lovely presentation of the togetherness and sweetness . . . of Sukkot."

—DIANE DONOVAN, SENIOR REVIEWER, MIDWEST BOOK REVIEW

Shelley and Jimmy Mindel help to build and decorate a sukkah, prepare a celebratory luncheon, and navigate four unexpected (green) guests, resulting in a sweet mitzvah. A first lost tooth and a note from the tooth fairy add an extra layer of warmth and charm to this lively rhyming tale—a slice-of-life story to go with a nice slice of noodle kugel!

"Beautiful, colorful sketched illustrations . . . help bring the excitement of autumn to life. At the same time, simple rhyming text adds a festive feel and keeps the story accessible for learning readers. . . . Sukkah-Doodle-Doo! is both joyous and instructive—sure to get any reader in the sukkah mood."

—THE CHILDREN'S BOOK REVIEW

"It's much too soon for dreidels. The shofar has been blown. But look—Sukkot is coming! Let's eat—say yes by phone."

"A humorous, engaging tale of a chaotic and entertaining event."
